Senator Charges Waste in Air Base Program

Proposes Probe Of Construction By House Group

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) charged today that "waste and inefficiency" running into tens of millions of dollars is continuing in the Air Force's base construction program.

Chavez, chairman of the Military Appropriations subcommittee, proposed that the appropriations committee conduct a "comprehensive survey" of the multi-billion dollar base construction program.

Chavez said that ever since the Air Force started expanding its bases after the outbreak of the Korean War there have been "numerous instances" of construction difficulties. He particularly cited the air bases in French Morocco, subject of many congressional investigations in the past—as well as construction problems in Europe and the United States.

The latest case of reported "waste and inefficiency," Chavez said, has cropped up in the Air Force construction program in Great Britain.

The committee has received a report, Chavez said, that between 10 and 15 million dollars has been wasted in "needless repetition of planning" for the bases in Great Britain and that "much greater sums have been wasted in trying to execute these imperfect plans."

Secretary Promises Action
On the British bases, Chavez said, it has been reported that structures have been built without utilities to support them, for which no specific requirement exists, that are much larger than required, and which are non-operational because they will not accommodate the equipment which was intended to be installed in them.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) seconded Chavez' move for an investigation and added the additional charge that millions of dollars have been wasted on an air base in Alaska. The base—which he did not identify—cost 100 million dollars more than originally planned, has excessive maintenance costs, and is practically unusable because of bad weather conditions, Robertson said.

Asst. Air Force Secretary Lyle S. Garlock, who was testifying before the subcommittee, promised to look into the charges about the British bases immediately and take what corrective action is needed. On the overall base construction program, Garlock said he believes a commendable job was done under the circumstances. Garlock pointed out that the bases were constructed with a "sense of urgency" during the Korean War that did not permit "time for planning and careful preparation."

Owen J. Roberts, Former 'Great Dissenter' of U. S. Supreme Court, Dies

Phoenixville, Pa. (U.P.)—Former U. S. Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts died today at his home in nearby West Vincent Township. The 80-year-old "great dissenter" of the high court had retired from the bench 10 years ago, devoting his time to civic affairs and an occasional appearance in court as an attorney.

The retired justice, who gave up a law practice reputedly worth $150,000 a year to accept his appointment to the high court by President Hoover in 1930, died at his farm home after an illness of four months which left him bedfast.

His wife, the former Elizabeth Caldwell Rogers, Fairfield, Conn., and his daughter, Elizabeth, were at his bedside when he died.

Roberts received the nation's medal of merit from President Truman for serving as chairman of the commission which investigated the Pearl Harbor attack and for heading the Army's advisory board on clemency which reviewed court-martialed convictions.

Roberts left behind a reputation as an independent and "unpredictable" jurist who frequently cast the deciding vote in 54 decisions of the high tribunal.

It was Roberts, vote which killed the Agriculture Adjustment Administration, but it also was his decision which upheld the Wagner Labor Relations Act and the unemployment compensation provisions of the Social Security Act.

Liberals charged he was a conservative, but conservatives branded him a liberal. Both Republicans and Democrats praised his integrity and forthrightness.

The tall, affable, jurist, who regularly wore loud bow ties, recently was a strong advocate for uniting the free nations of the world into a "Federal Union of Atlantic Democracies."

He was an active alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, serving as dean of the law school until recently and continuing afterwards as a trustee of the university.

Until his death, he was outspoken on international affairs and frequently accused Congress of permitting politics to interfere with national defense. He was an active supporter of Universal Military Training and was chairman of the National Security Committee which promoted UMT.

He termed the United Nations "at best a debating society" and said only a united world could prevent future wars.

Communists Reject Protest
TOKYO (U.P.)—Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai renewed his offer today to negotiate directly with the United States but made it clear he was interested chiefly in negotiating the withdrawal of U. S. armed forces from Formosa.

Chou, in a review of the Bandung African-Asian conference broadcast by Peiping Radio, emphasized Peiping's intention of "liberating" Formosa but said Communist China was willing to "liberate" it by negotiation rather than through military force.

Chou rejected any idea of a cease fire for the Formosa Strait and said this was an impossibility because Formosa is an integral part of China and that it was a matter to be settled by the Peiping government and by no other authority.

Peiping Radio broadcast the 5,500-word text of the report Chou made before the standing committee of the National Peoples Congress. He used the same "turn the other cheek" attitude he displayed at the Bandung conference but he did not budge an inch on the Formosa question.

He did retreat on one propaganda line. He said a plane which crashed en route to Bandung with Red Chinese aboard was sabotaged by Nationalist agents. He did not repeat Peiping's earlier charges the crash was plotted by Americans as well.

Chou said the "occupation" of Formosa by American forces was an international matter which has created tension in the Far East.

The Bandung nations demanded that Far East tension be relaxed through negotiations. Chou said, but despite this the United States "still is taking an evasive and equivocal stand."

Woman Receives $375,000, Auto As Contest Winner
NEW YORK (U.P.)—A Los Angeles man and woman were named top winners today in puzzle contests which will pay each of them more than $300,000.

The prize was said by its donor to be the largest ever awarded for a puzzle-quizzing contest.

Felix Waldo Meeker, Reseda, Calif., 65, an employee of Dun & Bradstreet, Los Angeles, received $300,000, plus a $2,500 automobile, as top winner of the Funk & Wagnalls Encyclopedia Contest, also sponsored by Unicorn Books Inc.

Mrs. Boroughs said she and her husband hoped to "realize a life-long ambition to spend six months touring Europe" with some of the prize money.

Meeker said he is "ready to retire to a small farm of not more than 5 to 10 acres."

Eisenhower to Act on Postal Pay Bill Soon
Knowland, Martin Discuss Legislation With President
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Republican congressional leaders said after a White House legislative conference today that President Eisenhower will act on the postal pay bill "in a day or two."

Senate Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) told reporters he has seen nothing to change his previous prediction that Mr. Eisenhower will veto the bill, providing an average 8.8 percent increase for 500,000 postal workers.

Mr. Eisenhower himself has hinted on several occasions that any pay boost larger than 7.6 percent would not meet his approval.

Knowland and House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin (Mass.) said they discussed with Mr. Eisenhower the general legislative picture for the remainder of this session.

"We still are shooting for the end of July or the first of August as a tentative target for adjournment," Knowland said.

On other subjects, they had this to report:

HIGHWAYS: Martin predicted the House will pass a bill closely resembling the administration's 39-billion-dollar 10-year plan. Knowland said a "strong minority" of the Senate Public Works Committee will fight for the administration plan as a substitute for a five-year, 13-billion-dollar highway plan sponsored by Sen. Albert Gore (D., Tenn.) and approved by the committee May 12.

Armed Forces Reserves: Martin said the President is very anxious to have passed the pending House bill overhauling the military reserves. "He feels it is absolutely necessary to the security of the country," Martin said.

The leaders said they did not discuss the polio vaccine program nor the foreign situation on which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will make a national radio-TV report from the White House tonight.

Woman, 35, Kills Her Boyfriend, Shoots Herself
JACKSON, Miss. (U.P.)—A 35-year-old receptionist killed her young boy friend and shot herself because she was too old for him, police said today.

Mrs. Juanita Clark, a plain, somewhat shy brunette, was found dead in the back seat of a car parked on a lonely road near here Monday. A huge white corsage was pinned to her blouse. A pistol lay in her lap.

Harrison L. Bullock Jr., 24-year-old salesman at the firm where Mrs. Clark worked, was slumped on the front seat. Both were shot through the temple.

A coroner's jury ruled Mrs. Clark shot her boy friend and then moved to the back seat and killed herself.

Detective Chief M. B. Pierce said a note, scribbled in pencil, showed Mrs. Clark planned the deed "because things were not going right."

"She was in love with him, but she knew they probably wouldn't marry because of her age," Pierce said.

Mrs. Clark had written she would kill Bullock "because of the great difference in our ages," he said.

Siamese Twin Girls Die Shortly After Birth

DETROIT (U.P.)—An autopsy will be performed today to determine the cause of death of Siamese twin girls less than 34 hours after their birth.

The twins, joined by a six-inch strip of flesh from the upper part of the breast bone to the abdomen, were born to Mrs. Richard Herring 27, by Caesarian section Sunday.

Dr. Glen Hulse, pediatrician in charge, said it was possible that their death resulted from lack of oxygen supplied by a shared set of lungs.

Doctors Hit Regulations on Nursing Schools
CHICAGO (U.P.)—Doctors charged today that "unrealistic" and "arbitrary" state regulations are helping to force nursing schools out of business in Illinois, in the face of a shortage of nurses.

The Illinois State Medical Society was asked to go on record in favor of taking regulation of the schools away from the State Department of Registration and Education, and placing it in the hands of a commission of doctors, nurses, hospital administrators and educators.

Identical resolutions were presented at the society's 115th annual meeting by the Campaign and Ford County Medical societies. They were referred to a committee for study.

Dr. William H. Schweninger, Chicago, told the meeting that a December survey showed a shortage of "5,000 to 6,000" registered nurses in Illinois.

Yet, Schweninger said, "four or five" training schools in the southern part of Illinois have closed since then.

He said a training school for nurses closed at East St. Louis only last week, and there now is none left in Illinois south of a line through Danville, Decatur, Champaign and Jacksonville.

Schweninger said the closings stemmed from the "constant upgrading of rules for schools which are 'pushed down their throats' by the Department of Registration and Education."

The resolution termed the "unrealistic, arbitrary and constant upgrading of rules and regulations" a "most important cause of nursing school closure."

Stevens Asks $45 Million for Secret Construction Work
WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens asked Congress today for 45 million dollars for construction work so secret that even he doesn't know what it is.

He testified before a Senate armed services subcommittee that the Budget Bureau added the $45,000,000 for classified construction to the $498,365,000 the Army wants to build air defense guided missile bases, housing for soldiers and their families and other military projects.

"The details of this 45 million-dollar project are not known to the Army," Stevens said.

House Adds $105 Million To Eisenhower's Proposed Farm Spending Programs

By United Press

The House passed a bill today giving farm spending programs 105 million dollars more than President Eisenhower asked for them.

The bill is expected to clear the Senate and reach the White House in a day or two. It will be the third year in a row that Congress has decided to put more money into farm programs than the President wanted to.

House passage was by voice vote. The appropriation bill provides $696,917,855 in new cash and $388,000,000 in lending authority for the year starting July 1. It also provides authority to commit the government to spending $250,000,000 on soil conservation subsidies to farmers for the year starting Jan. 1.

This was an increase over the Eisenhower budget of $20,185,897 in cash, $11,000,000 in lending authority, and $75,000,000 in conservation subsidies.

Other congressional news:
Tax Credit: The Senate Finance committee approved legislation to close a "loophole" in last year's tax law which allowed some companies to make double deductions for certain business expenses. The Treasury estimated the provision could cost the government one billion dollars. The measure already has been passed by the House.

Air Power: Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) demanded a Senate investigation to determine whether Russia is outstripping the United States in air power. Symington said he was "shocked and astounded" by a recent Defense Department disclosure that formations of intercontinental jet bombers have been observed over Moscow.

Doctor Draft: Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee said Congress has no alternative but to extend the doctor draft law even though "it's discriminatory... we don't like it." He urged the House Rules committee to clear for floor action a bill continuing the controversial draft of physicians until July 1, 1957, and warned that otherwise the armed forces can't get enough medical men.

Reserves: The House debated the administration bill to create a compulsory military reserve training program. Administration forces predicted approval.

Castle Asks Faster Action on Toll Road Suit

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois Atty. Gen.
Latham Castle said today he has asked for faster action in an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court of a lower court ruling in the state toll road project.

Castle said he filed a motion
here asking that action in the case be speeded so it can come before the spring term of the Supreme Court. He said a delay until the fall term would stymie completion of the toll road program for at least a year and would interfere with the integrated road program of the state, Cook county and the federal government.

The motion specifically requested a 5 day period rather than the usual 25-day period for preparing a re-hearing petition after a ruling is given on a motion to dismiss the appeal.

The appeal is in behalf of 28 property owners fighting the planned construction of 193 miles of toll roads. It is preventing sale of 400 million dollars in revenue bonds to finance turnpike construction.

The property owners sought an injunction against the toll road program in a lower federal court.
When it was denied, they took the case to the Supreme Court.

Estranged Husband of Ex-Queen Narriman To Take Second Wife

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Dr.
Adham Nakkeb, estranged husband of ex-Queen Narriman, announced today he was taking a second wife under Moslem law because he could not remain without a spouse indefinitely.

"It's a natural thing," he said.

"I have fallen in love with a young and beautiful lady and am going to marry her after a reasonable lapse of time," he said. He declined, however, to name the object of his new love.

Nakkeb said his second marriage would not be an act of reprisal against Narriman, who went to Switzerland for medical treatment more than a year ago and has not returned home. He just needs a wife, he explained.

The second marriage would not be bigamous under Moslem law since Moslems are allowed up to four wives.

Cadillac

One of the Great Steps of His Life!

When a man takes possession of his first Cadillac, many wonderful things happen to him.

First of all, of course, is the great "lift" he gets from the car itself. When he settles down behind the wheel, turns the ignition key and starts for home—well, it's a great life, and no fooling!

There's a wholly new feeling of security. Weight and size and strength are all about him. There's a new sense of mastery over the car. The response of the engine—the action of the brakes—the easy feel of the wheel... everything gives him a feeling of confidence he never knew in a motor car before.

And, of course, he can't help noting the quick glances of approval he gets from other motorists. Quite a change from yesterday, when he himself was stealing glances at the people in Cadillacs!

And so it goes on that first wonderful ride—with a new thrill every minute—until the car turns into the driveway. And then comes the greatest thrill of all—the wild and enthusiastic approval of that little group whose welfare is his constant inspiration.

Don't worry about dinner tonight—let's go for a ride!

This is only the beginning, of course. Every day and month and year adds to the satisfaction. There's the joy of the first cross-country trip; the pride from that first matching of gasoline and mileage; and the constant proof that the dream he dreamed is in almost everybody's heart.

Yes, when a man steps into his first Cadillac, he takes one of the great steps of his life.

And it's a much, much easier step to take than most people realize. The cost of a Cadillac is remarkably low. And once you own it... well, many contend that it is as economical, over the years, as any car you could buy.

Better come in and see us soon. We'll give you a ride that will thrill you—and some facts and figures that may amaze you. Why not make it today?

White House OK's Trade Bill; One Exception

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has accepted all but one of the "protectionist" amendments written into the administration's liberalized trade bill by the Senate.

The administration's position was set forth in a letter from Gerald B. Morgan, special counsel to the President, to the chairmen of the House Ways and Means committee and the Senate Finance committee. The House approved the administration's bill virtually intact.

Informed sources said Morgan endorsed the bill, as revised by the Senate Finance committee, and opposed only the so-called Morse amendment adopted on the Senate floor. This amendment dealt with protection for fruit growers from foreign competition.

One House Democrat who declined to be quoted by name complained that the White House action "has pulled the rug out from under House Democrats." He said they had planned to put up a fight in conference committee for the administration's original program.

A 10-man Senate-House conference committee is scheduled to begin work Wednesday on resolving differences between the Senate and House bills. The measure would extend the reciprocal trade act for three years and permit the President to cut tariffs 15 per cent in that period.

Two of the most important Senate amendments endorsed by the White House would revamp "escape clause" machinery to make it easier for domestic industries to establish that imports are injuring them and should be reduced.

The Senate bill also eliminated authority requested by the administration to cut tariffs by as much as 50 per cent on items imported in negligible amounts.

Made Difference

The Blue Nile carries millions of tons of silt from Ethiopia's Lake Tana to the rich flood plains of Egypt and the Sudan. Ancient Egypt might have been as lonely as the Sahara without this topsoil and moisture.

Distribute the wear on towels by rotating them in usage. Some homemakers rotate them by placing clean ones at the bottom of the storage pile and drawing from the top of the stack as needed.

Galatia High School Notes

Miss Judy Clarida, junior, was crowned queen of the Junior-Senior prom Saturday night at Galatia high school during the evening dance program which followed the annual Junior-Senior banquet.

Miss Clarida was crowned by Junior class president, Scotty Abney.

A Carrier Mills band played for the dance. The gymnasium was attractively decorated in a Hawaiian theme.

Senior Day was observed by Galatia seniors Friday, May 13. Members of the class journeyed to Springfield and visited the State Capitol building, Lincoln Home and also stopped at the New Salem park. Mr. Gill and Miss Moore were teachers accompanying the group.

The Galatia F. F. A. chapter won first place in the chapter Program of Work contest recently. The winner of this contest each year receives a plaque with the chapter's name engraved on it. This plaque rotates from chapter to chapter each year. Part of the members are making plans to attend the F. F. A. State convention to be held at Springfield on June 14, 15, and 16.

Pre-registration for underclassmen for next year will be held on Wednesday.

A Mothers-Daughters banquet will be held at the school Friday, May 20. Final exams will be given on May 25 and May 26.

Rushville Physician Is Honored as Family Doctor of '55

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Henry Orson Munson, 87, Rushville, who has practiced medicine for 65 years, was honored today as Illinois' "Family Doctor" of 1955.

Dr. Arkell M. Vaughn, Chicago, president of the Illinois State Medical Society, presented Munson a medal and citation at the opening of the society's 115th annual meeting.

Vaughn called Munson "a physician who typifies everything that an outstanding practitioner should be."

Munson has practiced in Rushville 60 years. Despite his age, he spends about six hours a day in his office, and makes calls day and night. He has delivered about 4,000 babies in his career.

Jones Stresses Need for Atomic Age Changes

Need of a "forward look" by government units and persons in charge as a measure of preparedness for the changes bound to come with the Atomic Age were emphasized by State Senator Glen O. Jones in an address to Rotary members yesterday at their noon luncheon.

The speaker, introduced by club president, John Foster, recalled the changes wrought by the invention of steam power a century ago and of the resulting revolutionary period through which many suffered due to lack of fore-planning. Senator Jones called for planning now to circumvent economic pitfalls of the future due to use of atomic energy. He also urged consideration of dispersal of industry, especially new, to better prepare this country in event of atomic attack.

A bill, introduced by Senator Jones, proposing that the governor set up a commission to study these facts and to pre-plan for a possible period of adjustment in the future, is now being considered in the State Legislature.

Bill Hopkins and Ed Kirkpatrick reported briefly on the district Rotary assembly held last Thursday at Du Quoin.

Next Monday, the Rotarians will observe Ladies' Night with the dinner and program beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Davcoport sang "In My Father's House are Many Mansions," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Norman. Mrs. Border closed the service by reading a poem.

The worship center, prepared by Mrs. E. Bishop Hill, was covered with a white cloth and centered with a ceramic plaque bearing the words, "God Bless Our Home." In a matching holder was a pink candle, and on either side of an open Bible was placed a bud vase, one with a red rose and the other a carnation, these representing the mothers living and dead.

At the close of the meeting members enjoyed opening gifts for the new kitchen. Many useful items were presented by members and friends of the W. S. C. S.

D-X Sunray Oil Merger Completed

TULSA, Okla., May 17 — The stockholders of Sunray Oil Corporation approved the merger of Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation with Sunray, and named the enterprise Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Company at their annual meeting held here last week.

It was announced by Sunray's Chairman, C. H. Wright, that some 80 percent of Sunray's more than 73,000 stockholders approved the merger and less than one-half of one percent submitted proxies in opposition. Mid-Continent's shareholders voting by proxy at a meeting in Wilmington, Del., also simultaneously approved the merger. Sunray Mid-Continent will have approximately 5,500 employees and 85,000 shareholders.

Sunray Mid-Continent becomes one of the nation's first 15 fully integrated oil companies as the result of this merger which went into effect at the opening of business on Monday, May 16, at which time directors of Sunray Mid-Continent held their first formal meeting in Sunray's new 13-story general office building in Tulsa.

Capital stock in the Sunray Mid-Continent Company will be exchanged for outstanding shares of the former Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation, and Sunray's presently outstanding shares of common stock will be unchanged.

Sunray Mid-Continent will conduct all of the oil exploration, production, and field extraction plant operations of the combined companies. The D-X Sunray Oil Company has been organized as Sunray Mid-Continent's wholly owned subsidiary to operate its pipe lines, refineries and conduct the widespread D-X service stations, dealer and distributor marketing functions formerly conducted by Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation in 17 states of the Mid-Central and Mid-South area. D-X Sunray will operate the Company's refineries at Tulsa and Sunray Village, Duncan, Okla.

SPRINGFIELD — The Taxpayers Federation of Illinois today sent out new handbills for its "Springfield Tea Party" taxpayers protest march June 9.

"Remember the Boston Tea Party? The time has come for a Springfield tea party," the handbills said, "Thursday, June 9, at high noon (DST) at the foot of Abraham Lincoln's statue, State Capitol Building."

The bulletin was topped with a picture of Rep. Franklin U. Strassky (R-Savanna), leading sponsor of the federation's plan to avoid the sales tax increase Gov. William C. Stratton says is needed.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY

XX

Detective Lull was still alive when the third of the Pinkerton "eyes," dispatched in grateful haste from the Chicago home office, arrived in Clay County. He was James W. Whichever, described in company files simply as "26 years old, an excellent operative."

Early Sunday morning he set out on foot for Kearney, as the old home town of Centerville was now being called. At Kearney, he began at once working toward the Samuel farm, stopping along the route to inquire for work at the neighboring places. It is known that one James Latche, a jackal to Jesse's pack of lions, left Kearney shortly after Whichever did—and arrived at the Samuel farm considerably before him. The mills of the Clay County demigods were aground.

At 1 a. m. the following morning, the ferry-master of the Owens Ferry, operating across the Missouri between Clay and Jackson counties, was dragged from his shack by three horsemen. All wore woolen mufflers pulled high about their faces.

Their leader, "a smallish, nervous man with a dark beard," identified his group in a "high, excitable voice."

"We're Deputy Sheriff Jim Baxter's posse," he growled. "We caught a horse thief and we aim to take him to Jeff City where we'll get his mate."

As the ferry left the Clay County shore, its frightened pilot looked in vain for the familiar face of Deputy Sheriff Jim Baxter among his mounted passengers. There were only the three face-hidden horsemen and the unfortunate "horse thief," bound and gagged aboard the fourth, led, mount. On the far side, the posse paid its proper fare, rode quickly away.

At 10 a. m. the same morning, the body of a man "with a rope around his neck, nine shot wounds in his chest and head, and his face and arms partly eaten away by wild hogs," was found face-down in a pool of blood on the Independence Road. A week later a sharp-eyed reporter from Kansas City identified the remains by small, tattooed initials on the right wrist. It was Jim Whichever.

In the Kansas City home of her married sister, Zerelda Mimms watched out the front window. Behind her in the prim neatness of the frontier parlor, a nervous clansman-of-the-cloth coughed uneasily, thumbed his bookmarked Old Testament repeatedly. About him, equally ill at ease, flitted a dozen friends.

At last, he came. And with him, right and left, came Cole and Frank.

The fall of the cutaway was slightly disturbed below the waist, as would be only natural to the cross-belted sag of the two heavy revolvers beneath it. The small hands, gloved as always to cover the missing tip of the middle finger of the left hand (shot away, tradition says, by Judge McLean in the long-ago Savannah robbery), were carried properly enough across the saddlehorn. But also carried across that saddlehorn, unbooted and naked in the April sun, was a late model carbine. Even on his wedding day, April 24, 1874, Jesse James was taking no chances.

On Dec. 12, at Muncie, Kans., eight miles west of Kansas City, a band of 11 calico-masked outlaws boarded the 4:45 express. The passengers and the two bonded express messengers were relieved of $60,000 in cash and jewelry. The getaway was familiarly succinct: the bandit leader rode easily up alongside the cab of the locomotive, waved his pistol and airily instructed the engineer: "Get going and give our love to Kansas City."

Early in the evening of the 28th, the marshal of Kansas City arrested one Bud McDaniels on the routine charge of shooting up the town. On Mr. McDaniels' dead-drunk person was found $1000 in fresh cash. The Pinkertons took over.

Mr. McDaniels talked. He had been at Muncie. He didn't remember all the others. He remembered Clall Miller, Clall's brother Ed, Jim Cummins, Charlie Pitts, a couple of others.

Maybe the James boys?

Well, naturally, Frank and Jesse!

That all? How about the Young-ers? Bob? Jim, maybe?

Well, yeah—Jim anyways.

Nobody else? Cole, for instance?

Oh, Cole, sure. Anybody ever see Jess without him?

The posse, fortified by local peace officers and just plain citizens who had had enough of the gang's terrorizing, left Kansas City via a special train supplied by the Hannibal & St. Joe Railroad. The coaches were darkened, the members of the posse slipping aboard at 5-minute intervals. Once across the Hannibal Bridge into Clay County, the train was pulled onto the spur at Kearney. On foot, its passengers spread through the snowy timber toward the Samuel Place.

The house was dark. No warning was given.

Through the west window, a flaming metal object was tossed. By its glare, the posse saw the room's occupants: Dr. and Mrs. Samuel and the two small Samuel children. Suddenly, there was a flashing explosion. The Pinkerton men rushed forward.

In the house they found Dr. Samuel unconscious, bleeding from multiple wounds. By the blackened fireplace stood Zerelda Samuel, her right arm a shapeless pulp. On the floor lay eight-year-old Archie Samuel, Jesse's half-brother and prime family favorite, a gaping hole torn in his side.

The boy died the next morning, even as Dr. Samuel was amputating his wife's mutilated arm.

Legislative Leaders Worry About Disagreements on Reapportionment

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Legislative leaders today were worried about the progress of reapportionment, with a new disagreement breaking out over downstate House districts.

House Speaker Warren L. Wood (R-Plainfield) said he will make every effort to complete legislative remapping "as a first order of business" before the General Assembly gets into an impending fight over Gov. William G. Stratton's tax program.

Wood and other leaders went to work early in the session to get committees to work on remapping Senate and House districts under the 1954 constitutional amendment. But a month ago, with the reapportionment committees of each House in agreement on all other sections of the new maps, the Senate committee got into its wrangle over Chicago Senate districts. Since then there has been no progress on remapping.

Resentment Spreads

Now resentment by House members over the remapping proposed for the northwest corner of the state has spread.

Rep. George S. Brydia (R-Proprietstown) has opposed the committee plan for the 35th District from the start. Rep. Charles K. Willett (R-Dixon) has opposed the redistricting less vigorously but now is backed in his objections by a Lee County publisher, a House committee member reported.

Now Reps. Harold W. Widmer (R-Freeport), Franklin U. Stransky (R-Savanna) and A. B. McConnell (R-Woodstock) are more critical of the remap proposal.

Action in the House today was expected to include a vote on the proposed 150-million-dollar Korean bonus bill. There was also a possibility the Broyles anti-subversive bills' sponsors might try again to move the measures to passage stage.

In the Senate, bills and amendments were being drafted to carry out the tax program announced last week by Stratton and Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Ready for Committee Action

The bill for the 1-2 cent city sales tax with referendum was prepared under bipartisan sponsorship. Amendments for the 1-2 cent two-year state sales tax increase and the matching 2 1/2 per cent "use" tax on out-of-state purchases, were ready for Senate Revenue Committee action.

There also will be sponsorship from both parties for the bill for a 5 per cent city utility tax, drafted by the Illinois Municipal League.

Cities with charter school districts were buttonholing their legislators to fight a bill giving the county boards of school trustees powers to annex and detach territory from their districts.

Downstate cities were opposing the bill to put firemen on a 56-hour work week.

High School Weddings Worry College Teacher

NEW YORK (AP)—One educator specializing in marriage and family relations courses is worried about the number of couples marrying while they still are in high school.

He says the majority of marriages during adolescence are neither emotionally nor psychologically sound. Lester W. Kirkendall, a teacher at Oregon State College, says that "often a high school marriage is simply a reflection of personal difficulties." Writing in a current edition of the National Parent and Teacher, the PTA magazine, Kirkendall says that some high school students are emotionally mature and ready for marriage and its responsibilities.

But he stresses that many young persons may use marriage as an escape from an unhappy home or from failure and frustration in school.

Carmi, Harrisburg, Shawneetown, Carrier Mills Meet in Tourney

Grayville and McLeansboro Losers in First Round Games

Carmi and Harrisburg were playing at 1 p. m. today on the town park diamond with Carrier Mills and Shawneetown meeting immediately afterward at the Harrisburg district high school baseball tournament continued.

Carmi yesterday blanked Grayville, 5 to 0, in a contest played at Crossville and Shawneetown nosed out McLeansboro, 3 to 2, on the town park diamond. Harrisburg and Carrier Mills drew byes.

Today's winners meet at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow on the town park diamond with the victor in tomorrow's game meeting the Marion subdistrict champ the following day for the right to enter sectional play.

Carmi and Grayville were scheduled to play on the Taylor Field diamond but because the field was so wet the game was transferred to Carmi. The diamond there was soggy, too; so the teams played it out at Crossville.

Today one game had been scheduled for Taylor Field and one at the town park, both at 3:30 p. m., but with water still on the high school diamond Coach Lawrence Calafetti decided upon a double-header on the same playing field.

At Crossville, Carmi's Winters blanked Grayville. Skipworth was his catcher. Bunting pitched and O'Donley caught for Grayville. On the local field Jack Nolen, Shawneetown hurler, and Mauldin, pitcher for the Foxes, engaged in a fine mound duel, each allowing four hits. Nolen struck out 12, Mauldin 8.

For Shawneetown D. Cutrell, 2b, had no hits and no runs; J. Austin, ss, had no runs and one hit; L. Underwood, 1b, had no hits and no runs; Gunzel, 3b, no hits and no runs; J. Drone, c, one run and one hit; T. Coleman, cf, no hits and no runs; D. Smith, left field; one run and one hit; and G. Shell, rf, one run and no hits.

For McLeansboro: Hall, 2b, one run and one hit; Luke, rf, one run and no hits; D. Lee, lf, no runs and no hits; R. Lee, ss, no runs and two hits; Webb, 1b, no runs and one hit; Sandusky, 3b, no runs and no hits; Dietz, c, no runs and no hits; Gately, cf, no runs and no hits; and Mauldin, p, no runs and no hits.

Doyle Parrack Named Cage Coach At Oklahoma U.

NORMAN, Okla. (UP)—A 33-year-old farmer set out today to build the University of Oklahoma into a great basketball power—a job he estimated may take three years.

Doyle Parrack, who left a post as athletic director at Oklahoma City University to become cage mentor here, said he would begin his recruiting drive immediately.

"I figure it takes about three years to get a really good team going, if you have to start from scratch," he said.

Parrack said he understood Bruce Drake, who resigned after 17 years as Sooners hardwood coach, already "has some freshmen about halfway signed up."

Drake has not announced his plans. He resigned only as a coach, not as a professor of physical education. Parrack's assistant at Oklahoma City, Abe Lemons, was named head coach there late Monday.

Both Parrack and Lemons said so far as they knew no OCU player planned to transfer here.

Cardinal Rookie Luis Arroyo Blanks Pirates

By United Press

Is the St. Louis Cardinal current pitching the real thing or the calm before another storm of enemy baseballs?

That's Manager Eddie Stanky's $64 question today after rookie southpaw Luis Arroyo hurled the Cardinals to a 6-0 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. In sweeping the three-game set, the Redbirds limited the Pirates to a grand total of one run and 13 hits.

Those three fine performances marked the first time this season that Stanky's pitching looked top-flight. The hitch, of course, is that Sam Jones of the Chicago Cubs pitched a no-hitter against the non-hitting Pirates just before the series began.

That left Stanky wondering whether the Cardinals have solid pitching or merely that anybody can beat the Pirates.

Gives Up Six Hits

Arroyo, a 27-year old native of Penuelas, P. R., who pitched last year for Columbus, Ga., in the Sally league and Houston in the Texas league, limited the Pirates to six hits in scoring his third win without a loss. Arroyo collaborated with Herb Moford in shutting out Cincinnati on April 20 and last Friday snapped a seven-game Cardinal losing streak with a five-hit triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

All told, the chunky lefty has pitched 28 innings, yielded only 17 hits and nine walks and struck out 16 batters while compiling an 0.95 earned run average. He didn't walk a batter Monday night and struck out three.

Before Arroyo's victory over the Phillies, Stanky's pitching problem was the most acute in the majors. Only two St. Louis pitchers were the nine-inning distance in the team's first 20 games and Stanky used four or more pitchers in seven different games. Since then, no precise location of the distance including splendid four-hit and three-hit efforts by Brooks Lawrence and Gordon Jones in the first two games of the Pittsburgh series.

Pirates Threaten Once

Bill Virdon, a strong candidate for rookie of the year honors this season, and Wally Moon, who won last year's award, each hit his fifth homer Monday night to pace the Cardinals' 11-hit attack. Catcher Bill Sarni weighed in with four hits and scored the Cardinals' first run in the second inning.

The Pirates Threatened Once

In the fifth when Jack Shepard singled and George Freese doubled with none out but Arroyo retired the next three batters on easy chances. It was the only game played Monday.

Two Men Freed On Charges Kidnaping Oil Operator

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (UP)—Two men have been freed from charges of kidnaping a Mount Vernon oil operator.

A Jefferson County grand jury failed to indict them Monday after the oilman did not appear to testify.

The men are Robert Charles Moffat, 22, a St. Louis poultryman, and James Williams, 27, also of St. Louis.

The oilman, Walter McGlasson, had charged that Moffat and another man kidnaped him April 12 near Bonnie, Ill., and took him to St. Louis.

Marciano Scores TKO Over Cockell in 9th; British Boxer Praised for Gameness

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Promoter Jim Norris said today he hoped to re-match Rocky Marciano and Don Cockell of England "in the not too distant future," but, meanwhile, Marciano "certainly will defend again in September" against some other contender.

Norris added, "Cockell won American hearts last night with his game stand against the champ."

Unbeaten Rocky, making his fifth defense of the world heavyweight crown, used his brand new left uppercut effectively against the champion of the British Empire and scored a technical knockout over him at 54 seconds of the ninth round in Kezar Stadium.

"I did most of my damage with the left uppercut," said the unmarked champion today. "It's a new punch I've been practicing a lot. Of course I worked on his body too."

The combined head and body attack before 15,235 fans in the chilly stadium hammered chunky Cockell into bloody helplessness, felled him three times and stopped him in the ninth round.

Hours after the fight ended, it was announced that the bout grossed $196,720. Pre-fight predictions from the promoters were for a $350,000 gate and an attendance of 28,000.

Rocky, fresh from his 48th straight victory as a professional, praised lavishly the brown-haired hog farmer of Horam, Eng. The swarthy "Rock" from Brockton, Mass., declared, "I've fought a lot of brave men in my time, but this fellow was tops."

The courageous 26-year-old challenger disclosed today that John Simpson, his manager, had wanted to stop the fight in the sixth round. "But I wouldn't let him," said the brown-haired husky with the inch-long plaster high on his forehead. "I was bound I'd beat him, and I'm sorry I didn't. But I'd like to fight him again."

According to promoter Norris of the International Boxing Club, Don will get another shot at the title "just as soon as he goes out and gets himself two or three good wins."

Manager Simpson, who staged a frenzied scene in the dressing room, had quieted down today, and he, too, wanted a return bout with Rocky. "But this time in England under English rules."

Thirty-year-old Marciano, who hadn't fought since he suffered an inch-long nose split against Ezzard Charles last September, gashed Cockell's forehead with a left uppercut in the fourth round.

The first of the three knockdowns came at the end of the eighth round. Cockell, who suffered an awesome battering from the second round on, was struck in the back of the neck with an overhand right and knocked halfway through the ropes on to the ring apron. When the count reached "three," the bell rang. His handlers helped Don back to his stool.

In the ninth, a left hook staggered Don, a right knocked him half to the canvas, and a left hook dropped him completely to his knees for the count of "seven."

Battered Across Ring

When the groggy challenger lurched to his feet, he was battered across the ring into the ropes. He bounced off the ropes and pitched forward and fell to his knees. There he took the count of "seven."

Explode Small A-Device in Eastern Pacific

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government announced today the successful explosion of a small nuclear device under water in the eastern Pacific ocean.

A statement said the test involved "no health hazard to mainland or island inhabitants or consumers of fish."

Successful completion of the test was announced in a joint statement by the Department of Defense and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Previously announced purpose of the underwater test was to develop tactics for use of nuclear weapons against submarines.

The test location for the explosion was given, but the Defense Department said it occurred "several hundred miles from the closest land area off the West Coast of the United States." It said the experiment site was completely clear of fishing grounds and shipping lanes.

Rear Adm. C. B. Momsen headed the joint task force that carried out the experiment. The Scripps Institution of Oceanography was utilized in the studies. The Defense Department said, "Their recommendations were followed."
